

Harrison High School Grand Prize Winner of the NJ Department of Agriculture's "Eat Right Move More" contest

The "Eat Right Move More" program is a partnership between the NY Jets, the Department of Agriculture and the American Dairy Council. The goal is to encourage students to eat healthy foods in their school cafeteria and to become more active.

Pomptonian is proud to have assisted Harrison High School in winning the award. Harrison won a visit from NY Jets player D'Brickashaw Ferguson and former Jets player, and Harrison High School alumni Ray Lucas. The school also received a $5000 award to buy a new salad bar and the school will be recognized at a NY Jets home game.
